

BELL SHOW AND RODEO

SHOWGIRL COMPETITION

The Bell Show Society Showgirl Awards has provided an opportunity for young women to be involved in the agricultural industry, the show movement and their local communities. They in turn gain personal development, have an opportunity to pursue leadership roles in their community and in the workplace. The Awards have made a significant contribution to the advancement of women in regional and rural areas ever since the first Queensland Showgirl was awarded.

The winner of Bell Show Society Showgirl has the opportunity to represent Bell Show Society at the Sub Chamber (held at the Toowoomba Show) awards and if successful continue on to State and National levels.

The State Showgirl Awards hosted by the Queensland Chamber of Agricultural Societies and promoted by the Queensland Country Life have together offered hundreds of Queensland women each year to be involved in one of the great Australian traditions – the local Show.
